

OPPORTUNITIES AND SUPPORT FOR NURSES, MIDWIVES AND ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

NSW RURAL DOCTORS NETWORK
CELEBRATING 30 YEARS

NSW Rural Doctors Network (RDN) provides individual support to nurses, midwives and allied health professionals working, or seeking work, in remote, rural and regional primary health care including Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Services (ACCHSs) in NSW.

Our support includes:

- access to RDN current nursing and allied health vacancies
- support preparing for an interview, including CV and interview advice
- support for overseas graduates, including registration guidance and settling into rural NSW
- connecting you to the employer that best suits your professional and personal needs
- access to grants for site visits, relocation, education and training.
- providing you with a welcome kit upon starting a new role, to connect you to information, services and networks

- ongoing post-placement support.

RDN is a not-for-profit organisation.

Our services are delivered in partnership and with support from the Australian Government Department of Health (DoH), the NSW Ministry of Health (MoH) and various community organisations. Recruitment support services are funded and subsequently provided free of charge. Some additional services may attract a fee where necessary.

ABOUT NSW RURAL DOCTORS NETWORK

NSW Rural Doctors Network

NSW Rural Doctors Network (RDN) is a not-for-profit and non-government organisation and is the Australian Government's designated Rural Workforce Agency (RWA) for health in NSW.

Our vision is for improved health service access for all Australians – no matter where they live.

We seek to support better health and wellbeing for people living in remote, rural and regional and disadvantaged communities, particularly those in NSW and the ACT.

To achieve this vision, we seek to grow and strengthen a capable primary health workforce, support communities in tailored health workforce solutions, support the capacity of health service organisations, contribute to policy and ensure RDN's continued effectiveness.

RDN offers a range of services, programs and activities across NSW that:

- help remote, rural and regional communities, General Practices and health services to find suitably skilled and qualified General Practitioners (GPs), nurses and allied health professionals to work in their towns
- assist suitably skilled and qualified GPs, nurses and allied health professionals to pursue careers in remote, rural and regional NSW (both Australian and International Medical Graduates/Overseas Trained Doctors)
- support existing remote, rural and regional doctors, nurses and allied health professionals through the provision of Continuing Professional Development (CPD) activities and succession planning
- provide financial support for further study, training and short courses
- assist in finding locum support for remote, rural and regional GPs, including through our unique and free RDN Locum Match
- deliver a wide range of health outreach services to rural towns
- support remote, rural and regional medical partners and families
- provide a range of scholarships, support and information for students studying medicine or health-related degrees in NSW.

RDN also works with:

- Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Services (ACCHSs) to support health services for Aboriginal peoples
- rural NSW Primary Health Networks (PHNs) to support remote, rural and regional GPs
- local communities, governments and rural Local Health Districts (LHDs) on medical workforce matters
- university medical faculties to promote rural medicine.
